

CRIB SECURITIES Upward Swing of Prices Is General—Independent Oils Are Active.

There was yesterday a general upward swing of prices of crib securities and before the close of the market many new highs were established. Independent oils received the most attention and advanced 1 to 7 points on heavy trading. Among stocks to reach new highs were General Asphalt, common and preferred, and Shell Trading and Transport. Houston Oil advanced in good demand and improved 7 points higher. Standard Oil stocks were rather quiet, but several points higher, as a rule.

Union Oil was well bought, due to good showing of Union Oil of California, in which it has a working control. Phillips Petroleum improved 2 points, while Northern Texas was slightly lower. Recent activity in the Homer field of Louisiana, where several large wells were recently brought in, has caused considerable interest in stocks of concerns operating in that section. Stimms moved up 1 point, due to Petroleum, which has under option 5,000 acres in the district, was steady.

Trading in the industrial section was moderately scarce, but prices did not fluctuate outside a range as they did in the oils. Vanadium Steel was firm and sales were reported in United Motors, which moved 2 points higher for the first time in several weeks. Recent strength in Canopus Iron reflects the statement to the effect that the company would be in position by the first of next month to maintain regular shipments of iron, to realize an amount equal to almost 90 per cent on the stock at par. Tobacco stocks were in better demand after opening lower.

Intobacco, which had been weak, was strong, but little change occurred in the rest of the bond group. Total sales and range of prices follow:
